

Shabra Charity Foundation and the Monaghan Association present...

A fundraising Dinner Dance in aid of the people of Ireland to purchase medical equipment for the Mater Hospital, Dublin, To be held on Saturday, 4th November 2017. In memory and fulfilment of Oliver Brady's promise.

Oliver Brady was a well known horse racing figure and philanthropist who sadly passed away in September 2014. His dying wish was for his charity, the Shabra foundation to provide the Mater (public) hospital with funding (£1.2 million) to develop their clinical gene sequencing machine. Currently, the people of Ireland must travel or send their samples abroad to benefit from the advances in technology that allow early detection and treatment of all genetic diseases. Not only will this benefit people showing early signs of disease, it will allow their family members to be tested. It can also allow more effective treatment of disease through the use of developments in gene therapy.

On Saturday the 4th November 2017, the dinner dance held at the Clayton Hotel, Chiswick will be in aid of funding the provision of Genomic Sequencing Equipment to the Mater Misericordiae University Hospital, Dublin.

Tickets will cost £100 and will include a top quality meal, wine and a night of entertainment and dancing with options to purchase individual tickets or tables seating up to 10 people for £1,000. The event will also include an auction, raffle and a chance to watch the Breeder's cup.
